Duties of a Member of the U.S. House of Representatives:

A congressman's responsibilities include representing constituents, drafting and voting on legislation, overseeing government actions, and participating in national policy decisions. Congressmen are primarily responsible for creating, debating, and passing laws that affect the nation. This involves introducing bills, reviewing them in committees, debating on the floor, amending proposals, and voting on legislation. They also participate in setting the federal budget, regulating commerce, and, in some cases, declaring war. Understanding the Role and Responsibilities of the House of Representatives

Experience:

Eli Crane grew up in Yuma, Arizona. He served from 2001–2014, completing five deployments with SEAL Team 3. After leaving the military, he co-founded Bottle Breacher, a veteran-owned business that gained national attention on Shark Tank and was later sold in 2022. He attended University of Arizona, studying sociology. A week after the September 11, 2001 attacks, Crane left college and enlisted in the U.S. Navy. He served 13 years in the Navy and became a Navy SEAL, serving with SEAL Team 3. He completed five wartime deployments, deployed multiple times to Iraq. After leaving the military, Crane and his wife Jen co-founded Bottle Breacher, a company producing bottle openers made from spent bullet casings. He entered politics in 2022 winning election to Congress with support from Donald Trump and was re-elected in 2024. In Congress, he is a member of the Freedom Caucus and has taken high-profile stances on issues such as Ukraine funding, border security, domestic energy, and federal spending. His committee work has focused on Homeland Security, Oversight, and Military/Foreign Affairs. He is known for strong conservative positions and active involvement in national security, border policy, and rural issues.
