Duties of a State Senator:

Arizona State Senators serve in the upper chamber of the state legislature. Their core responsibilities include voting on state laws, budgets, and taxes, deciding whether to uphold or override governor vetoes, and representing constituents within their legislative district.

Experience:

Senator Rogers earned a Bachelor of Social Work from Michigan State University, a Master of Social Work from the University of Alabama, and a Master of Science in national security studies from California State University, San Bernardino. She became one of the first 100 women Air Force pilots, and went on to pilot the C-141 transport jet for worldwide airlift and humanitarian missions. In Europe, during the fall of the Berlin Wall she was deployed for six months to run the Bosnian Airlift. Rogers retired from the Air Force after twenty years of active duty, with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, over 3,000 hours of jet time, and numerous commendations including the Defense Meritorious Service Medal.

After retiring, Wendy and her husband started their own home inspection business. After home schooling her own children, she has been active in the local community as development director of an Arizona charter school, as a foster parent, and as an Arizona substitute teacher. She is an officer in the US Air Force auxiliary, and the Civil Air Patrol (CAP), flying missions and participating in search and rescue efforts. Rogers is Chairman of the Arizona Senate Elections Committee, Vice Chair of the Senate Government Committee, and a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee and Senate Military Affairs & Border Security Committee.
